First a series of scores which have manual line-breaks in them. This demonstrates what happens to scores which were previously typeset under the old system where manual line breaks were necessary for 2-line initials.

Now a series of scores with all manual line-breaks removed, demonstrating the power of the new feature

