Score 4971 from GregoBase, with line breaks inserted to match the original printed source. Every B is flatted (te); for example, the flat on Genitorem extends to the end of the line, so the B in Virgo and prius are flatted.

Without explicit line breaks, the B in Virgo and prius move to a new line and should be flatted, but are not.

Using soft flats. The B in Mater has a hard flat, so it is printed even though not strictly required. The B in Virgo correctly has a flat.
